father and twin brother, John T. came to Utah and settled in Tooele. When John was six years of age he died and was buried in Tooele.

George T. helped his father, for he was the oldest in the family. They boiled the water of Great Salt Lake near Black Rock to get salt for domestic use. He often went with his mother to gather sego bulbs for food. In 1865 the family moved to American Fork. His father was a blacksmith and George learned the trade.

George joined in the Black Hawk War and fought the Indians. He learned to speak the Indian language quite well.

Ellen Maria and her family embraced the gospel in England and as soon as they could save enough money, came to America on a sailing vessel, which took about six weeks. Ellen walked most of the way to Utah where they arrived after many hardships, in Oct. 1862. They soon went to American Fork where they did farming.

Ellen had very little schooling but was very adept in every kind of household task and sewing. After their marriage, George and Ellen built an adobe home in American Fork.

Nymphus C. Murdock of Charleston had heard that George was an excellent blacksmith so he went to American Fork to urge him to come to Charleston where a blacksmith was badly needed. After a time George decided to go. They spent two days driving there. They lived over the Murdock store till George could build a home which they moved into in 1883. Ellen clerked in N. C. Murdock's store and George built a smithed and farmed. Later they built a larger home and kept travelers. George prided himself on raising the best of everything to use on the table, including vegetables, small fruits and honey. He raised the first grapes in Charleston.

George worked to get free schooling for children through taxation. He believed in education and was determined his girls should have good schooling.

They were parents of three girls: Ellen Melvina, Lucy Amanda and Fanny Ladacy.

George Thompson Baker was born in Des Moines, Iowa, February 20, 1847, a son of George and Rhoda Ann Thompson Baker. Married Ellen Maria Wagstaff December 12, 1870 in the Endowment House in Salt Lake City. She was born July 15, 1852, at Caldicutte, Bedfordshire, England, a daughter of Samuel and Lucy Webb Wagstaff. George died Feb. 25, 1927 at Chapin, Idaho, and Ellen Maria died Nov. 21, 1925 in American Fork.

JOHN MORTON AND MARGARET CUNNINGHAM
MORTON

John Morton, one of the early settlers of Midway, was born in New Kilpatrick, Dumbartonshire, Scotland, April 29, 1816. He was reared by friends of his mother's family and through the influence of these good people, he joined The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Margaret Cunningham became Mrs. John Morton on December 30, 1840. For seventeen years the Mortons lived in Scotland and John worked as a coal miner. Soon after Margaret became converted to the church, the family felt the necessity for closer church association and they, with their children, Allen, Mary and John Jr. crossed the ocean on the vessel Tuscarora. They arrived in Philadelphia on July 3, 1857 and traveled immediately into Maryland where they stayed for a year while John and his eldest son Allen worked in the coal mines.

In 1858, they crossed into Pennsylvania where they lived and worked for five years in preparation for their westward journey.

In 1863, they started for Utah, coming to St. Joseph, Missouri, by railroad and then taking a steamboat up the Missouri River to Florence, where they met an ox team train taking members of the Church to Utah. The family arrived in Utah in September of 1863 and then went to Franklin, Idaho, for three months. They arrived in Provo Valley in December of 1863 and were greeted by Margaret's brother, Robert Cunningham.

Margaret Morton made yeast which she would exchange for flour and sugar and in this way, she provided for her own needs after her husband's death. She never sold yeast on Sunday or Relief Society day and as people would come from all over Midway to get yeast from her, they would comment to each other concerning the spotless home and person of Margaret Morton and upon the pleasure which it gave them to talk with her.

The Morton home was located near the spot where Conrad Gertsch's barn now stands.

JOHN MORTON, JR. AND MARIA WATKINS MORTON

John Morton was born April 26, 1851, in Stirlingshire, England, the son of John Morton and Margaret Cunningham.

When he was six years of age, he, with his parents, brother Allen, and sister Mary, emigrated to the United States. They sailed on the ship, Tuscarora. They reached Philadelphia on July 3, 1857, five weeks after setting sail. From there they went to Maryland, where they remained for a year. In 1858 they moved to Pennsylvania and stayed for five years. The Civil War made it necessary for all able-bodied men to work, so young John, only ten years of age, went to the coal mines with his father and Allen and worked hard as a miner for two years.

In May 1863, the family started for Utah, going to St. Joseph, Missouri, by railroad and then by steamboat up the Missouri River to Florence, where they met the ox train waiting to take the Saints to Utah. In crossing the plains John walked most of the way. The family first settled in Franklin, Cache Valley, Idaho. Here John and his sister, Mary, were baptized.

John's uncle, Robert Cunningham, who was living in Provo Valley, wrote to the Morton family and urged them to come to him and he could help them secure land. So three months later they settled in the Upper Settlement of Provo Valley.

In 1866 John joined Ira Jacob's company in the Home Guard of the Black Hawk War.

On June 16, 1872, he married Fanny Lucretia Wardle, daughter of George Wardle and Fanny Rushton. For five years John and his family lived in Glenwood, Sevier County. They returned to Midway in 1878. On March 20, 1883, his beloved wife died. To them had been born two children, John Edwin and Fanny Lucretia. John Edwin married Lavina Baker. He was a doctor and spent part of his young life in Provo Valley. Fanny Lucretia married Robert Krebs.

In 1885 Mr. Morton received a call from John Taylor to go on a mission to the Southern States with only six days in which to get ready. He was ordained a Seventy on April 13, 1885, and set apart for his mission the same day. Ten Elders left Salt Lake City together for the Southern States Mission, and two years later they all returned together.

At Quarterly Conference in Heber on May 12, 1877, the 96th Quorum of Seventies was organized. Brother Morton was set apart as one of the presidents. He held that position until 1909, when he moved his family to Kaysville, Utah. In Kaysville he served as a Stake missionary.

In May, 1888, he married Maria Watkins in the Logan Temple. To this union were born eight children.

Mr. Morton worked in the timber and did much to develop mining in Wasatch County. He died in Kaysville on April 20, 1920.

Maria Watkins was born in Midway October 30, 1870, to John and Harriet Steele Watkins. She was the seventh child of a family of thirteen children. Harriet Watkins, Maria's mother, died at the birth of her thirteenth child. Maria was only eleven years old, but she helped her father's third wife, Mary Ann Sawyer Watkins, to raise the little children.

Maria helped cook at her father's saw mill up Snake Creek Canyon. She early assumed the responsibilities of an adult. At the age of seventeen, on the sixteenth of May, 1888, she married John Morton Jr., in the Logan Temple. They made their home in Midway, and became the parents of eight children:

Robert Cunningham, died in youth;
Effie Ophelia, married Heber Murdock;
Sterling, married Ivy Isabella Smith;
Basil Wallace, married Emma Lou Knothe;
Bernard, married Mattie A. Hamblin;
Maynard, died in infancy;
Alton Watkins, married Thelma Barlow;
Emery Llewellyn, married Dorothy Myrle Bywater.

In 1909 the family moved to Kaysville, Davis County. Mr. Morton died in 1920. Mrs. Morton took in boarders and managed a small lunch stand to help finance the education and bringing up of her children.

In 1936 she went to Midway to take care of her brother William and his wife, Mary Busby, who were both in very poor health. William died November 6, 1937, and Mary died July 8, 1939. Maria stayed with them until after their deaths. She was always kind and willing to help wherever she was needed. She did beautiful handiwork and gave it all away. She worked faithfully in the Church. She spent the last years of her life in Salt Lake with her daughter, Effie. She died November 4, 1948, in Salt Lake City.
